- The LILL™ comes in 7.75" diameter which we've found is a great size for pendant lights that are used in intimate settings that require lighting that sets the mood and brings focus to areas that require a moderate amount of illumination that isn't too overbearing but perfect in its subtlety.
- Most importantly, its 691 - 949 lumen range is the perfect amount of lighting for the various settings we've had the pleasure of having this fixture placed in. Lighting designers especially love how impactful this fixture is on areas that require a powerful pendant that brings a 'delicate touch' to an area.

The LILL™ is not to be underestimated due to its compact appearance--it brings a bright, uplifting radiance to the best of environments.
